Martin Handford's Where's Waldo's bespectacled and beloved character Waldo will be hiding around Durham at 40 local businesses throughout July. As an added challenge, the elusive Waldo is joined by his dog, Woof, for the 2014 Waldo hunt. The search begins July 1 and continues for the entire month.

Prizes are awarded to those who can find Waldo and include buttons, book coupons and more from supporting businesses like Elmo's Diner, Recyclique and Bull City Craft. Presented by Sustain-a-Bull and The Regulator Bookshop, Find Waldo is a great summer activity for families and residents alike. Anyone who wishes to participate can pick up a "Find Waldo Local in Durham!" passport, which includes the names of all the participating sites, at The Regulator and get their passport stamped or signed for each Waldo they spot. The first 100 Waldo seekers to get their passports stamped or signed at 15 or more sites can bring their passports back to The Regulator to collect prizes. Collecting stamps or signatures at 20 or more businesses will enter diligent seekers in a grand prize drawing on July 31, with the grand prize being a six-volume deluxe set of Waldo books. Other prizes include gift certificates, exercise class passes and event tickets.
